Abstract. The article analyzes the actual moments of the opinion of the politician, publicist, public and public figure of the Azerbaijan Democratic Republic M.A.Rasulzadeh on education and school. According to M.A.Rasulzadeh, Azerbaijani youth should be established in national language, national spirit, in accordance with the religious beliefs of the people, educational institutions where secular sciences can be taught. To achieve this goal, you need to create good programs and teachers who can apply these programs. In his articles, Rasulzade noted that all political processes of the period influenced the education, especially the education and training applied to Azerbaijani Muslims. This policy, based on imperialist interests, was ignorantly unfair and illogical. As you read the writer's articles, you will again be sure that it is not the political panic of time, but the future of the nation that has become a victim of political games, its education, scientific development, language and national-moral values. As you read his articles, you see the truth of the existence of an independent nation, an independent nation capable of living internationally and with the help of democratic, science and education, with a logical perception of its religious beliefs.
